

| NAME AND SURNAME OF STUDENT  | SUBJECT: CLINICAL ROTATION: SURGICAL PURPOSES - SURGICAL SKILLS:General surgery |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
|--|---|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|
| TYPE OF PROCEDURE  | No. Of procedures   | Date of fulfillment |
| Medical history and clinical examination of surgical patients            | 6   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| Preoperative preparation of patients                                     | 6   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| The primary treatment of simple wounds                                   | 2   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| Diagnosis of acute abdomen and chest diseases                            | 6   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| Diagnosis of bone fracture   | 6   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| Participation in repositioning bones and setting plaster immobilization  | 6   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| View extremities after setting plaster. Setting temporary immobilization | 6   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| The use of bandages. Basic bandages.                                     | 5   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| Observation of chest drainage  | 1   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |

In the column the date and signature of the officiating doctor

Certification Course leader
(signature and stamp)

| NAME AND SURNAME OF STUDENT  |                   |                     |                     | SUBJECT: CLINICAL ROTATION: SURGICAL PURPOSES - SURGICAL SKILLS:Pediatric surgery |                     |                     |                     |
|--|-------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|
| TYPE OF PROCEDURE  | No. Of procedures | Date of fulfillment | Date of fulfillment | Date of fulfillment   | Date of fulfillment | Date of fulfillment | Date of fulfillment |
| History, heteroanamnesis and clinical examination of the child             | 6                 |                     |                     |   |                     |                     |                     |
| Acute abdomen in children  | 5                 |                     |                     |   |                     |                     |                     |
| Diagnosis and indications for surgery of congenital malformations          | 6                 |                     |                     |   |                     |                     |                     |
| Methods of treating fractures in children (introduction to the principles) | 6                 |                     |                     |   |                     |                     |                     |
| Procedures with injured child  | 6                 |                     |                     |   |                     |                     |                     |

In the column the date and signature of the officiating doctor

Certification Course leader
(signature and stamp)

|   |                          |                            |                            |  |                            |                            |                            |
|---|--------------------------|----------------------------|----------------------------|--|----------------------------|----------------------------|----------------------------|
| NAME AND SURNAME OF STUDENT                                |                          |                            |                            | SUBJECT: CLINICAL ROTATION: SURGICAL PURPOSES - SURGICAL SKILLS:Orthopedic surgery |                            |                            |                            |
| TYPE OF PROCEDURE  | No. Of procedures | Date of fulfillment | Date of fulfillment | Date of fulfillment   | Date of fulfillment | Date of fulfillment | Date of fulfillment |
| Medical history and clinical examination of orthopedic patients   | 6                        |                            |                            |  |                            |                            |                            |
| Immobilization of the knee plaster splint or appropriate orthosis | 4                        |                            |                            |  |                            |                            |                            |

In the column the date and signature of the officiating doctor

Certification Course leader
(signature and stamp)

| NAME AND SURNAME OF STUDENT   | PREDMET: KLINIČKA ROTACIJA: KIRURŠKE STRUKE – KIRURŠKE VJEŠTINE:Maxillofacial surgery |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
|---|---|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|
| TYPE OF PROCEDURE   | No. Of procedures   | Date of fulfillment |
| Medical history and clinical examination of the surgical face, jaw, mouth and teeth | 6   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| Diagnosis of viscerocranial fractures   | 4   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| The primary treatment of superficial wounds of neck and face                        | 1   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| Nasal packing   | 1   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |

In the column the date and signature of the officiating doctor

Certification Course leader
(signature and stamp)

| NAME AND SURNAME OF STUDENT                         |                   |                     |                     | SUBJECT: CLINICAL ROTATION: SURGICAL PURPOSES - SURGICAL SKILLS:Ophthalmology |                     |                     |                     |
|---|-------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|
| TYPE OF PROCEDURE                                   | No. Of procedures | Date of fulfillment | Date of fulfillment | Date of fulfillment   | Date of fulfillment | Date of fulfillment | Date of fulfillment |
| Medical history and clinical examination of the eye | 6                 |                     |                     |   |                     |                     |                     |
| Conjunctival swab                                   | 1                 |                     |                     |   |                     |                     |                     |
| Strabismus (diagnosis)                              | 2                 |                     |                     |   |                     |                     |                     |
| The application of fat and drops into the eye       | 6                 |                     |                     |   |                     |                     |                     |
| ophthalmoscopy                                      | 3                 |                     |                     |   |                     |                     |                     |
| Putting bandages on eye                             | 2                 |                     |                     |   |                     |                     |                     |

In the column the date and signature of the officiating doctor

Certification Course leader
(signature and stamp)

| NAME AND SURNAME OF STUDENT  | SUBJECT: CLINICAL ROTATION: SURGICAL PURPOSES - SURGICAL SKILLS:Neurosurgery |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
|--|--|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|
| TYPE OF PROCEDURE  | No. Of procedures  | Date of fulfillment |
| Medical history and clinical examination of neurosurgical patients | 6  |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| The differentiation of peripheral -central paralysis               | 2  |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| Bandaging the head and neck  | 2  |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| Review of patients with CNS injury                                 | 6  |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |

In the column the date and signature of the officiating doctor

Certification Course leader
(signature and stamp)

| NAME AND SURNAME OF STUDENT   | SUBJECT: CLINICAL ROTATION: SURGICAL PURPOSES - SURGICAL SKILLS:Otorhinolaryngology |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
|---|---|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|
| TYPE OF PROCEDURE   | No. Of procedures   | Date of fulfillment |
| Medical history and clinical examination of ENT patients                          | 6   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| Principles of lighting the cavities. The use of front mirrors and indirect light. | 6   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| Otoscopy  | 6   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| Hearing tests   | 2   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |
| Interpretation of findings  | 3   |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |                     |

|   |   |  |  |  |  |  |  |
|---|---|--|--|--|--|--|--|
| Front rhinoscopy, stop bleeding from the nose | 1 |  |  |  |  |  |  |
|---|---|--|--|--|--|--|--|

U In the column the date and signature of the officiating doctor

Certification Course leader
(signature and stamp)

| NAME AND SURNAME OF STUDENT                              |                          |                            |                            |                            |                            |                            |                            | SUBJECT: CLINICAL ROTATION: SURGICAL PURPOSES - SURGICAL SKILLS:Urology |
|---|--------------------------|----------------------------|----------------------------|----------------------------|----------------------------|----------------------------|----------------------------|---|
| TYPE OF PROCEDURE  | No. Of procedures | Date of fulfillment |   |
| Medical history and clinical examination of urological patients | 6                        |                            |                            |                            |                            |                            |                            |   |
| Viewing emergency urological patients                           | 3                        |                            |                            |                            |                            |                            |                            |   |
| Insertion urethral catheter                                     | 5                        |                            |                            |                            |                            |                            |                            |   |
| Participation in bouginage urethra                              | 3                        |                            |                            |                            |                            |                            |                            |   |
| Digital- rectal examination of the prostate                     | 5                        |                            |                            |                            |                            |                            |                            |   |

|  |   |  |  |  |  |  |  |
|--|---|--|--|--|--|--|--|
| Reading native X-ray images of the urinary tract | 2 |  |  |  |  |  |  |
|--|---|--|--|--|--|--|--|

In the column the date and signature of the officiating doctor

Certification Course leader
(signature and stamp)