

Dubravka Brdar*Title: M.D.Work address: University Hospital Split, Clinical Department of Nuclear Medicine
Spinčićeva 1, 21000 Split, Croatia
Tel: +385 21 556 620; E-mail: d.brdar.dr@gmail.comLanguages:

Croatian (native)

English (proficient)

Russian (basic)

Education:

2011-current Doctoral program „Evidence based medicine“, University of Split School of Medicine

2008- 2009 Doctoral program „Nuclear medicine“, University of Zagreb School of Medicine

2007-2011 Resident at Department of Nuclear Medicine, University Hospital Split and University Hospital Zagreb

2001-2003 Doctoral program „Urgent and Intense medicine “, University of Zagreb School of Medicine

1989 - 1996 Medical doctor, University of Split School of Medicine

Additional education:

2007 Course of „Ultrasound in Clinical practice – Ultrasound of thyroid gland“, University Hospital Split

Work Experience:

2011-current Specialist of Nuclear Medicine on Clinical Department at University Hospital Split

2008-current Assistant in Biophysics and Nuclear medicine, University of Split School of Medicine (subcontract)

2007-2011 Resident at Department of Nuclear Medicine, University Hospital Split and University Hospital Zagreb

1999-2007 doctor at Emergency Medicine in Imotski and doctor of general practice in Srijane and Zagvozd

1996-1998 An intern at the University Hospital Split and in ambulance of Aržano

Expertise: D. Brdar, MD is a young specialist of nuclear medicine. She is currently attending PhD program „Evidence based medicine“ at the University of Split, School of Medicine. She has published 4 scientific papers.Projects:

2014 – current collaborator in scientific research project financed by Croatian Science Foundation, Identification of new genetic loci implicated in regulation of thyroid and parathyroid function, leader Tatijana Zemunik