

Recognition of rotations conducted outside of Split

Students can conduct their rotations in: Internal medicine; Surgery; Gynaecology and Emergency medicine. Paediatrics rotations may only be performed after the attendance of the Paediatric course.

You are only permitted to conduct rotations, at either a university or affiliated teaching hospital. The necessary competency records are the same as those which have to be completed in Croatia, except those for Surgery which had to be modified due to differing programs outside of Croatia.

The course leaders decide on the recognition of rotations for students who are completing their rotations outside of Croatia. Students who choose to remain in Croatia are required to form small groups to complete their rotations.

All students are obligated to attend the Emergency course and Simulations as well as 'case reports' in Split.

Case Reports: Each student prepares a case report and presents it to the class followed by a short discussion.

Essay, Emergency states in medicine: Each student has to portray and analyse a patient based on contemporary literature.

The essay should be 2pages (Times New Roman, 12 ppt, double-spaced).

The essays should be submitted to the course leader or to the secretary office(julije.mestrovic@gmail.com -course leader and nerinacvjetkovic@yahoo.com-secretary).
